Oh, he's hopping mad!

We asked our readers: What's the quickest way to make you angry? Here are our favourite answers

I get mad when people wake me up when I'm fast asleep. I stay up late most nights, and catch up on my sleep in the daytime.

Once, my maths teacher woke me up during a lesson, and I couldn't help but give him an angry look. Another time, my mum woke me up for dinner, and I lost my temper. Recently, my father knocked on my door while I was sleeping, and I punched my mattress because it put me in such a bad mood.
