

The flavour of the season

This week, we asked our readers: what does a Hong Kong summer taste like?
Here are our readers' favourites

It tastes like sweet potatoes roasting in an oven. You can enjoy lots of water sports in summer. But you will be soaked in sweat when you walk under the scorching sun. And when the sweat dries up, your skin will look like a roasted sweet potato – dry and wrinkled.

3

Emily Liao Zhi-yong, 15, Catholic Ming Yuen Secondary School

Our student, Liao Zhi Yong (3A), has expressed her points of view towards the topic about “What does a Hong Kong Summer taste like?” The article was published in SCMP (Young Post) on 15th June, 2021.